Join Brave New Films for “Home is a Human Right”—a special screening event and advocacy fair (May 5th at St. Athanasius Episcopal Church in Echo Park) where you can find out what you can do to stand in solidarity with our neighbors in the undocumented and refugee communities.

We will be premiering The Call to Sanctuary, the newest short film in our ongoing series on immigration. Also shown will be the films DACA: Pursuing the Dream and Nowhere to Go: Shutting Out Syrians. Hear from speakers from the immigrant and refugee communities, and connect with immigrant rights organizations to take immediate action in support of our neighbors. We will also feature Undocumented Stories, a multi-media art exhibit curated by UCLA students to uplift the experiences of undocumented youth. Food will be provided!
